Education:
Striving To Improve Oneself

Life is sometimes rugged, and there are always many seemingly unsurpassable mountains to climb. Even after each pinnacle is reached, there is invariably other slopes higher which must be obtained. When the summit had been reached, and there seems to be nothing left to accomplish, the soul still desires to achieve a higher goal. The soul longs for perfection. By reaching out to help someone in need, many discovered fulfillment. Others reached a goal set early in life to achieve beyond what was necessary. But each person learned for himself what brought happiness, and learned to recognize things that could only bring defeat. Learning to work together is the ultimate and probably unreachable goal which every group of people who abides by rules must learn to face. Like leaves on a tree, each person is an individual, sufficient in himself. They are joined in the intricate and complicated web of society. But society cannot rein if each individual cannot, or will not, compromise and put others before himself. Through education, children become responsible men and women who have learned valuable lessons of compromise.

Campus Life

Learning to interact with people from different cultures is one goal strived for by P.I. students.

American Indian Day

S a l u t e s

N a t i v e A m e r i c a n s

Miss Phoenix Indian High School
Daphne Frenchman
Miss Winnebago

American Indian Day is an annual event where various tribes from Arizona, Utah, Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado, come together to share their Native American culture in Arts and Crafts and in ceremonial song and dance.

The week began with the Miss Phoenix Indian High School Pageant. The Pageant was performed for the staff and student body and also for the public. The candidates presented many outstanding talents. From the 15 candidates Miss P.I.H.S. and three runner-ups were selected. Ending the week was American Indian Day. Many groups entertained, such as: Peridot Headstart, Parker High School, Ganado High School, Northern Arizona University Dance Club, Salt River Pima Basket Dancers, Central Plains Club, as well as, Phoenix Indian's Pow Wow Club, Hopi Club, Papago Club, and Apache Club.

American Indian Day concluded with the presentation of awards for outstanding service and induction into Phoenix Indian's Hall of Fame.

The band has made great strides this year. With the cooperation of all the supporting staff of administrators, teachers, and students, we feel we can and will climb even higher. Plans are being made at this time for many tours and programs to be played in and around the Southwest. We also feel that music is just a small part of what we learn from being in band. We learn to give and take orders, develop self discipline, learn to work as a team, respect all people, build self determination, and develop a real pride in ourselves and our school. It's great to be in the Band!

Student Profile

Anthony Gregg is the senior class president. He was born in Kotzebue, Alaska, and now lives in Kaka, Arizona. Tony is of Papago and Eskimo ancestry. In the three years that Tony has been going to school here, he has been involved in many activities, such as band, photography, journalism, and wrestling. Some of Tony's interests are self-defense, model building, reading, photographing people, dancing, and the care and prevention of alcoholism. Tony would like to go to college and become involved in either photojournalism or business administration. Speaking of his role in leading the graduating class he said, "I was very glad to have been chosen senior class president. It was an opportunity for me to get really involved with the students, to learn from their ideas, and to benefit from the participation with others."

Student Profiles

Miss Phoenix Indian High School was represented by a Winnebago from Winnebago, Nebraska. Miss Daphne Frenchman started school on the P.I. campus in October, 1977. When asked what it meant to be Miss P.I.H.S. Daphne replied, "Being Miss P.I.H.S. means voicing the opinions of my fellow students—representing 'our' school to the best of my ability. I hope to promote the importance of a good education and work toward promoting school spirit." Daphne enjoys learning about other tribal rituals and legends. Some of the spare hobbies that occupy Daphne's time are: beading, reading poetry, and horseback riding. On her future goals Miss Frenchman said, "I'm a junior this year and hope to graduate from Phoenix Indian in the year of 1980. I then would like to attend medical school and become a pediatrician."

Darrell Kitcheyan is an Apache from San Carlos, Arizona. Darrell has been at P.I. for two years. This year he was studentbody president. Darrell lists sports as one of his favorite endeavors. After graduation Darrell would like to enlist in the Marines. Future plans after that would be to possibly become a heavy equipment operator. On the topic of being the studentbody president he remarked, "It means more than being a student here at P.I. The reason that I went for this office is because I wanted something good for these students. I wanted to make a few changes here, and it is working fine. The student council itself now is doing a pretty good job. We have new members, but they're in there filled with enthusiasm. I hope that this will turn out to be a better year."

Administration: the necessary leadership to accomplish the task

Phoenix Indian School is an excellent academic institution. It has a fine interscholastic athletic program. It has a varied recreational program. The dormitories are nice places to live.

Most students take full advantage of the many opportunities that are here. I want to compliment those students who have exhibited this dedication to getting a good education. I want to encourage those who have fallen short to re-dedicate all their efforts in the future to completing their education so that they may also live a wholesome and productive life

The goals of the science department are to instill in students the scientific attitude as well as, to help students develop a good relationship with their environment. By understanding the forces of Nature more fully, a more appreciative attitude concerning the world of life will be developed. The science department attempts to answer all questions that arise in the minds of students.

Arts And Crafts Band: Creativenss Expressed By Use Of Hands

At Phoenix Indian High School art is an integral part of school and community life. Fine Art is drawing and painting (in all media) sculpture, and craft arts. Design and color theory are basic courses for the two year program. Thereafter, individual expression is unlimited in either subject matter or media. Classes offer the opportunity for creativity in both traditional and contemporary attitudes.

Traditional methods of beadwork, pottery, basketry, and leathercraft are taught. Additional skills are evidenced in moccasin and costumemaking as well as serigraphy. Instruction in contemporary craft arts to produce exotic articles in feathers, bone, leather, and beads is also given. Area and campus shows provide awards, ribbons, and sales for art students.

Also in the area of fine arts, the band helped to develop musical talents through the individual and group participations. In the time that Mr. Romine has been at P.I., he has developed a fine program.

Math: Digits, Decimals, Division, And Dismay

The math program consists of basic math, Algebra I, II, and III, and trigonometry. The math system is set up in these different areas for the students to work according to the levels of their ability. The program is designed to enable students to enter the work world with a P.I.H.S. diploma. The upper levels of math are designed to enable students to successfully compete in trade and academic schools.

Frank Cavallo- Athletic Coordinator

Two groups were present at all the athletic events. Both were very important to the success of the teams.

The cheerleaders contributed to helping motivate the crowd at all the home games, as well as most of the away games. Along with the pep band's help, the cheerleaders helped get the fans off their ---- and on to their feet where they belonged. Crowd participation was much better than in past years, and this was all responsible because of the cheerleaders.

The athletic coordinator was responsible for scheduling, along with management at the games, coaches' supervision, making certain pregame meals were ready, and numerous other details. Frank Cavallo ably used his vast experience in the athletic and physical education areas to give P.I. a first rate program.

The Bravette volleyball team had six returning players this year. This was a big help since our first game was the day after school started. The team came back to school one week early to condition twice a day. The season was successful and enjoyable. Skill level improved and the girls worked well together. The varsity achieved 5 wins, 13 losses, and the J.V. had 10 wins and 8 losses. Unfortunately, a flat tire on the way to divisionals caused the team to forfeit their first game. The girls met Coolidge in the second round of the double elimination tournament and lost, though they played a great game. P.I. will miss the seven graduating seniors, but all returnees are ready for a challenging season next year.

"Go Get 'Em, Braves!"

It was a difficult task to characterize the football season. Surely terms like disappointing and frustrating would be high on the list. Somewhere on the list would have to be the word rewarding. One term that could epitomize the season would be exciting.

Practice started early in August. With many returning starters and lettermen off the '77 team, the Braves' coaching staff went into the '78 season with many high expectations. Perhaps this would be the best season in Phoenix Indian High School history. The cards did not fall the way anticipated. The Braves were man-handled by Intermountain Eagles from Utah, 34-20. After the Braves lost five more, they finally recorded their first victory while visiting Sherman Indian School at Riverside, California. The Braves ended with one more victory and two more losses. Their season ended with a record of 2 wins and 8 losses.

The new pep band helped to keep the excitement level high at all home games. Many thanks to Band Director, Jack Romine and also to the Booster Club for its support.

Junior varsity football prepares boys with little experience in football for future varsity competition.

This year's J.V. team had more talented players, that made the team a tough competitor in each game played. Every week throughout the season each player showed progress. The team started out with 32 players and ended with 21 players.

J.V. football at Phoenix Indian High School teaches self-discipline, respect, pride, and dedication. Many skills were learned, and the basic concepts of football were taught to some players who had absolutely no background in the sport. When one considers how little exposure some of the team members had, the season was a great success.

Crozier, Whatoname, Majenty await.

As all basketball seasons go around Peconic Junior, this season started out with great anticipation and excitement. There was a new coach and staff, and basketball reigns as #1 in participation. The expectations of the season were not as fulfilled as the coaching staff had hoped. However, at times the teams played with great hustle and desire, even though short and oftentimes "out-manned."

Joe Morris handled the head coaching job. His team compiled a record of 4 wins and 15 losses. The team started out with Action—as exciting and fast-paced. After the Christmas vacation two key starters quit, and the team slumped. One highlight of the season was the play of transfer, Walter Majenty.

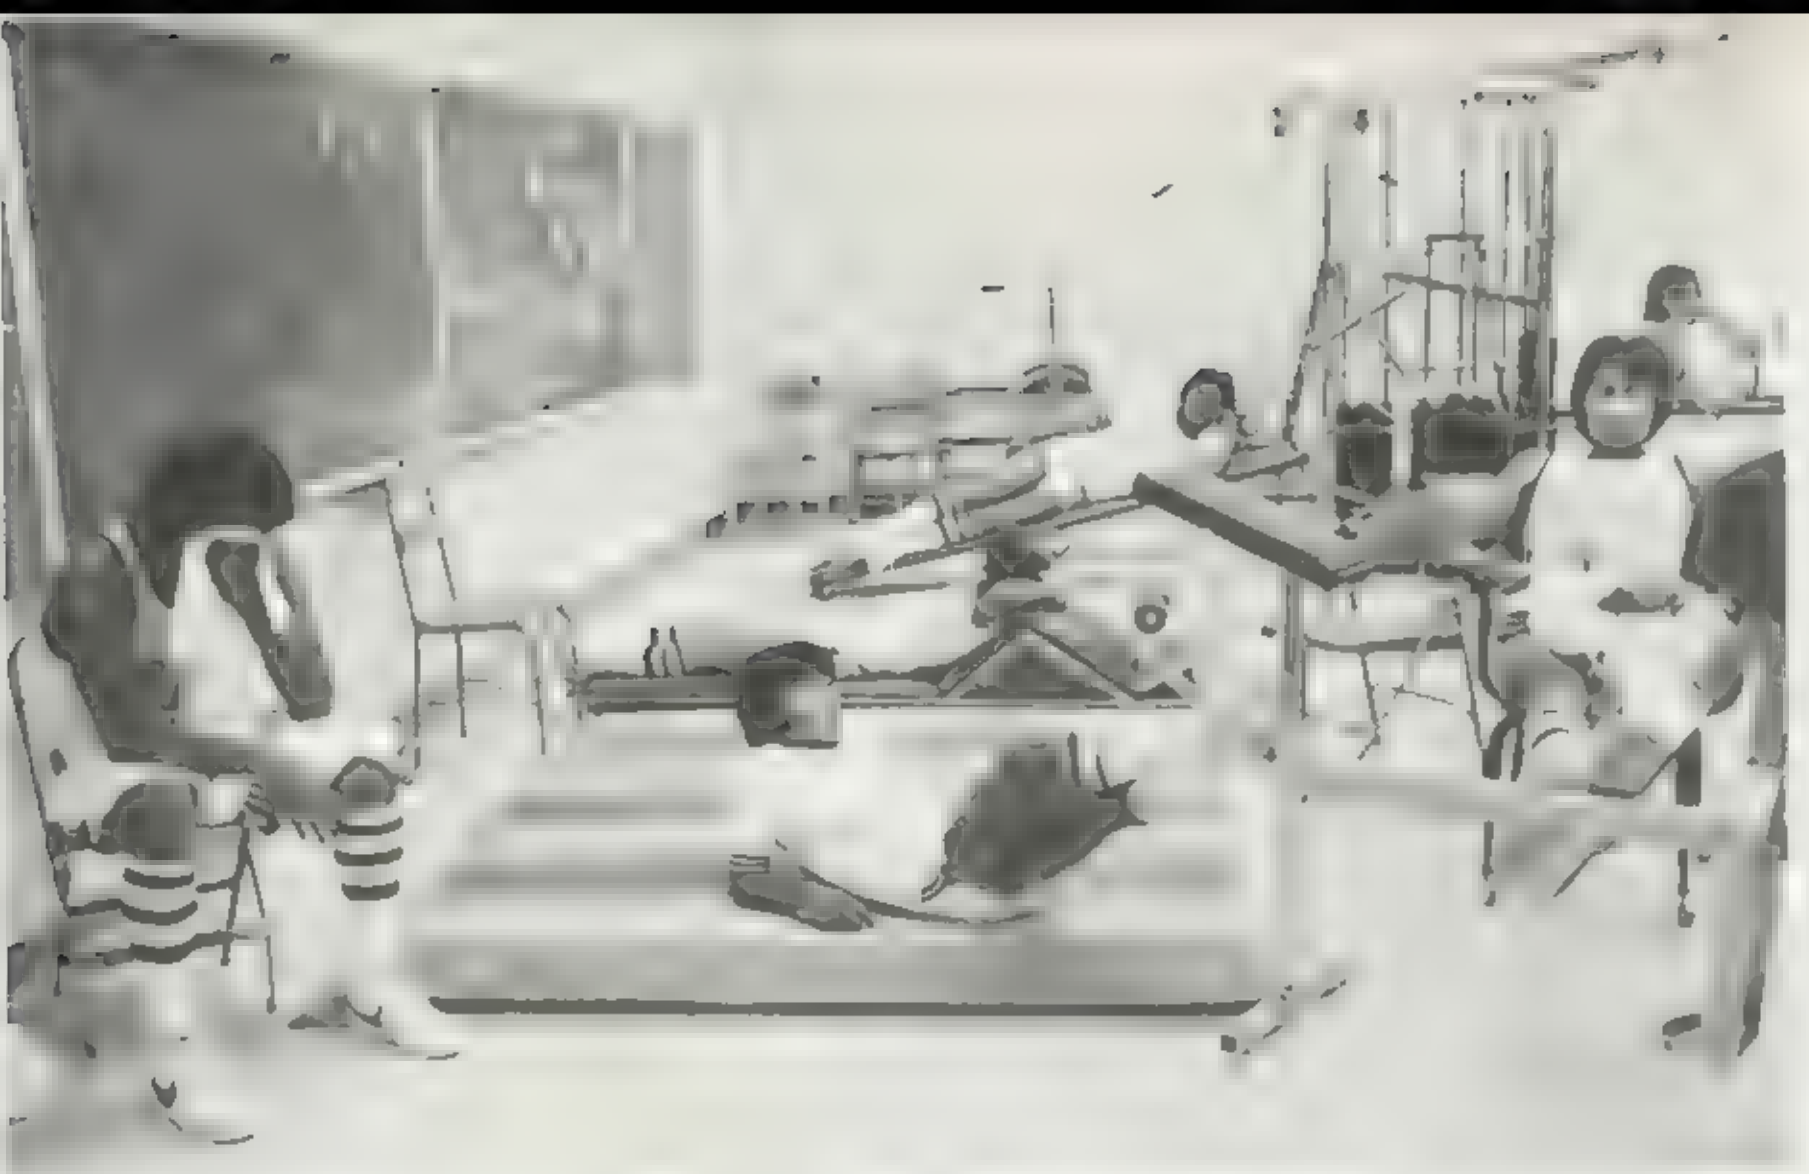

Gene Hernandez coached the junior varsity team to a 3 win 14 loss season. Some of these ball players will fit into varsity vacancies next season.

Bob Tullman tutored the frosh club through a promising 11 win 4 loss campaign. The young Braves played very consistent basketball. Many of the players will move up to the J.V. and varsity with a good fundamental knowledge of basketball.

Voted as most valuable player was Lois Uqualla. Most Improved player was Connie Tewarima. The leading scorers for the season were Lois Uqualla, Rebecca Beatty, and Pam Manuel. Many of the girls will now be able to move up to varsity competition and compete successfully.

* Phoenix Indian Invitational

The 1978-79 Bravettes basketball team got off to a great start this year by running their record to 4-2 and winning the Championship trophy in the Christmas tournament. The Bravettes beat Man. Park 62-58 for the title. Sheila Roanmore and Cheryl Kewanaytee were named to all-tourney team.

Bravettes averaging close to 59 points a game for the first 6 games found the going much tougher in conference play. The up-and-down Bravettes lost a close one to Parker 69-66 and managed to finish with a 2-5 conference record.

Inconsistency among the teams top players seemed to be the Bravettes low points. Andrea Outie, Patsy Upshaw, and Arlene Victor gave some strong performances for the team this year. Bravettes hope to rebound back next year by returning four starters.

Freddie is ready to reverse

The wrestling squad experienced a highly successful season this year. The varsity team was undefeated 8-0 in dual meet competition and the J.V.'s were defeated only once (7-1). Coaches, Marty Conrad and Jim Hastings, directed the matmen through their successes. High points for the season, besides the dual meet records, were the second place finish at the Buckeye Invitational and the qualifying of five members for the state wrestling tournament. Ronnie Calnimpetewa (195), Carlton Gould (112), Rupert Lopez (132), Tony Gregg (138), and Walter Marrietta (179) all placed within the top three places in divisionals to qualify for state competition.

Even though five starters will graduate, the success of the JV team should indicate P.L.'s wrestling program will experience more success in the future.

A pleasant addition at the wrestling meets were the matmaids. These girls cheered and supported the wrestlers at invitationals and dual meets. Patty Talanongva captained this colorful group of girls.

Volunteer Work Experience is a three hour course for juniors and seniors. Students apply for this program, and those selected get training and experience in a career in which they are interested. Students work off-campus four days a week and are on campus for class work the fifth day. Students are presently working in Health Careers, Office Occupations, Education, Child Care, and Technical Careers. If a student has a career interest in a new area, a job is found for that student which will meet his or her needs.

Rodeo Club

The purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for individual students to participate in a sport where roots are implanted in most Southwest Native Americans. Cattle, horses, and livestock are a livelihood of these people and the sport of rodeo has evolved from friendly competition at cattle roundups. The Apaches have one of the largest cattle herds in the Southwest. A number of our "Indian cowboys" presently participate in the PRCA with much acclaim. Colleges are offering full ride scholarships, and industry such as Skoal and Copenhagen sponsor college rodeos. Rodeo is truly a sport the "Indian Cowboys" can look forward to.

The club gives Phoenix Indian students a chance to practice on live bulls at nearby ranches and enter All-Indian rodeos throughout the state. The club is a member of the All State Rodeo Association, which is affiliated with the National High School Rodeo Association. A number of rodeos are held throughout Arizona and our "hands" get an equal opportunity to try for national honors.

Perry Whittington and Harry Lewis listen to the discussion.

The Student Council is the governing body next to the Administration. The Student Council consists of fifteen members. Each member represents either their dorm or class. The Student Council plans and organizes the many activities which take place at Phoenix Indian School. The council holds their meetings every Tuesday and Thursday. The student Council is also involved in an exchange program with the public schools. They visit the various public schools comparing them to boarding schools. These are the public schools that they have visited: Moon Valley, Glendale, Apollo, Independence, Thunderbird, Mountain View and Mt. Miguel (California). The Student Council's main concern is to better the needs of the Phoenix Indian student body.

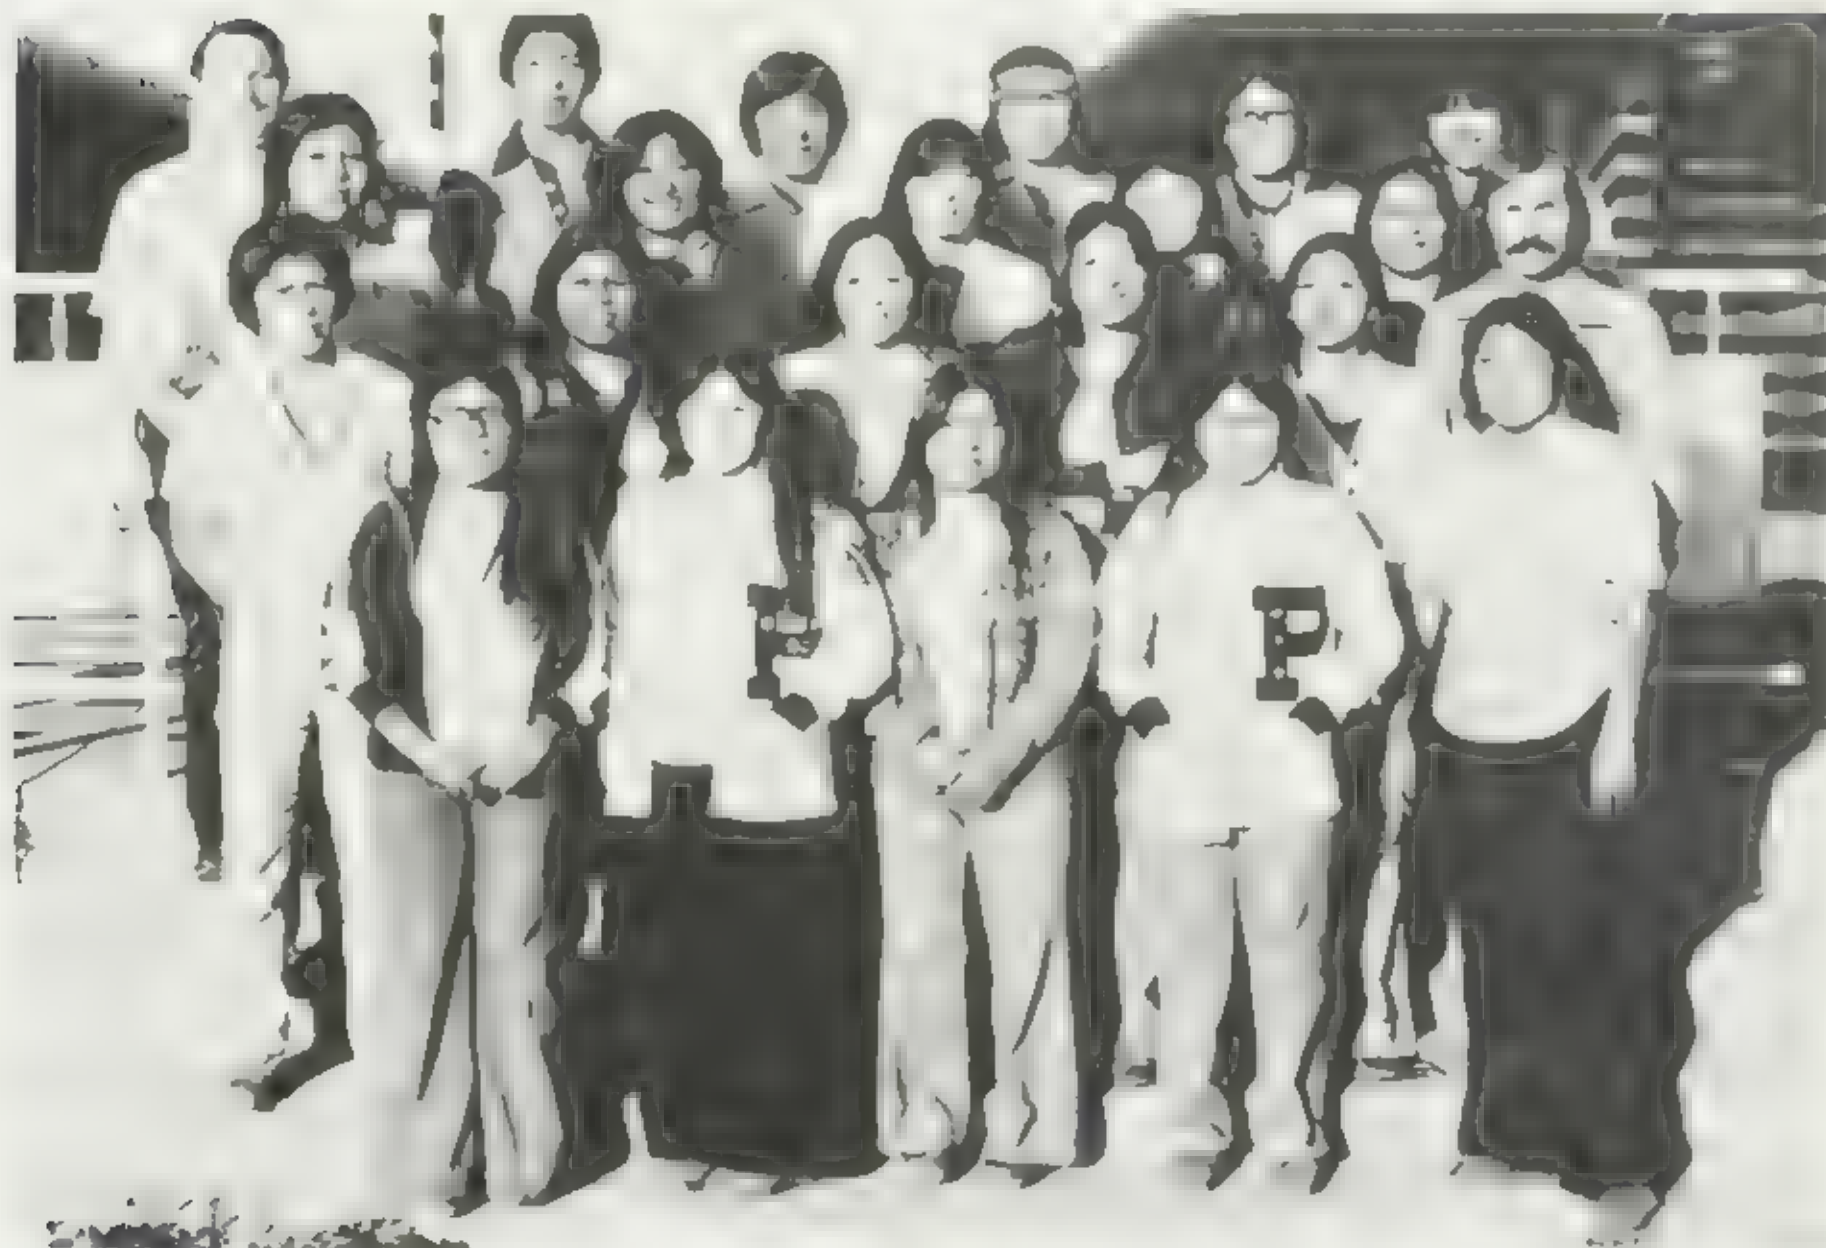

Members discuss the needs of the student body.

More discussion is heard to better future school activities.

The Phoenix Indian High School Chapter of the National Honor Society, is the only one of its type in any of the B I A boarding schools.

The club recognizes and honors the outstanding students on our campus. Membership is based upon scholarship, leadership, service, and character, but students must maintain a high scholastic average and follow to a reasonable degree the rules of the school to remain a member of this club.

This school year P.I. inducted ten new members, which places present membership at twenty-seven students.

Tony Gregg is president of the National Honor Society. Patrick Secakpa is vice-president, Margaret Silas is the secretary; Eric Tewa is the treasurer.

Gary Lentz and Robert Meier are the club's sponsors.

This section presents a pictorial view of Phoenix Indian School using "our version" of current movie titles. Phoenix Indian School offers a unique setting. Not only is it a high school, but it is also a boarding school. Students from at least nine states and eighteen different tribes are represented at Phoenix Indian. Varied cultures and traditions are evident on campus. This pictorial section will offer a description of different school functions, social events, campus life, and student involvement during the year.

This year's first hour journalism class mainly worked on putting the yearbook together. They learned different kinds of layout structures, how to write copy, how to increase and decrease the sizes of pictures. The students each had a page or pages assigned to them to do and to be done within a certain length of time. The students all got an opportunity to see just how it is to be responsible for something. Students even got to go out and collect ads.

Special thanks to Tony Gregg for his work in photography, both as cameraman and developer. Graham Thomas also helped in that area.

This year's annual has more color pages than in the past. The book's size has also been increased. An additional twelve page supplement will be received next fall as students return to school.

Unlike many student newspapers, the REDSKIN is a total production of this school. We write and type our own stories; we do not use material from other news sources. We take our own pictures and develop our own prints. We even, under the direction of Mel LaClair, the school printer, print our own paper, instead of sending it out to a professional printing company. Sometimes our mistakes may be rather obvious, but the students who take journalism have the chance to learn the entire newspaper process.

Our Gas Smells!

Properly used, natural gas is clean and safe. In its natural state, it's odorless. However, a smelly odor is added to warn you when something's wrong. A faint odor warns you to check equipment. Are kitchen range burners turned off? Are pilot lights burning? If odor is strong, don't ignite a flame or operate light switches. Open windows and doors. Evacuate the building and call your gas company immediately.
